Members absent: Katie McDonald, Lindsay Herlihy

Meeting Minutes:

Old Home Day was discussed. A table was in fact on display in the library with many different pamphlets and newsletters available to the public. Interactive, educational displays were enjoyed by all who stopped by the exhibit.

We discussed ways of becoming more visible to the public. It was decided by the committee to:

- design a bulletin board at the library (Kris Hanson volunteered)
- Use some of the pamphlets at the town clerks office (Stephanie)
- Talk to the police department about idling vehicles (Margaret)
- Get permission to design an educational display at the elementary school in their common area and to post an idling awareness sign (Nate)
- Contact the Goffstown News about possibly submitting a monthly selection of helpful, household hints to save energy and carbon emissions (George & Margaret)

Invite the public to our meeting (to be held at the library) with a guest speaker from the Department of Environmental Services – Kathy Brockett, the educational outreach supervisor. Kris or Margaret will ask Kathy if she is available to attend this informal question and answer session.

We worked together to sort through the various informational items collected by the committee (mostly Kris) and decided where they should be used or stored (Stephanie's).

Next Meeting: October 16 or 18, 2007 depending on the availability of Kathy Brockett at the town library 6:30pm

The meeting was adjourned at 8:15pm
